♥ Do you love your child and loathe bad people who want to harm him (or her)?

Then Heroic

Parenting is for you! ♥ If you've ever lost sleep worrying about your child's safety, you're not alone. You may want to wrap your munchkin in a protective bubble and defend him from every harm but doing so could emotionally cripple him and make him more, not less, vulnerable to predators. In Heroic Parenting, danger expert CJ Scarlet helps you teach your child how to handle himself in scary situations, ranging from bullying and digital dangers to sexual abuse and kidnapping. After reading this book, you'll feel more knowledgeable and confident in your ability to talk candidly with your child at his age and maturity level without scaring him to death. It's time to ditch the worry and get some sleep! This super informative, unputdownable book (with TONS of downloadable bonus content!) is the new bible for parents looking to raise safe, savvy, confident kids.

 ★ IMPORTANT NOTE!!!
 Heroic Parenting is an alternate version of Badass Parenting: An Irreverent Guide to Raising Safe, Savvy, Confident Kids—a much snarkier, edgier book that contains the liberal use of swear words. (If you're NOT put off by profanity, you'll definitely want to read Badass Parenting instead.) However, if you prefer a family-friendly version of the book, Heroic Parenting is for you. Know that while the swearing is redacted, the wisdom is not! ABOUT THE AUTHOR CJ Scarlet, aka the "Badass Grandma," is a danger expert and victim advocate with a master's degree in human violence who has helped thousands of crime survivors over the past 30 years. HERE'S WHAT THE BOOK COVERS:

REASSURING facts revealing the REAL truth about the dangers your child faces. Who the predators are and the sneaky but effective lures they use to groom children. How YOU can empower your child, using the body safety skills in this book, to help him spot predators and avoid them so he doesn't become their next victim. Why other kids are a greater sexual threat to your child than you think. What to do when the abuser is your partner or ex. The 3 different kinds of bullying and the 8 types of bullies your kid might encounter. Easy & effective ways to "bully-proof" your child & teach him to "train" bullies to leave him alone. The types of digital dangers your child might encounter online and how to flag and block inappropriate activity that could endanger him. Why that

"innocent" selfie of your child could land him and his friends on the sex offender registry for life. Sexual molestation & assault-signs, symptoms, & what to do if your child is a victim. Spotting concerning sexual behavior that you need to address asap. How to empower children with disabilities to keep them safe. (An entire chapter!) Helping your traumatized child to heal after a victimization. How to boost your child's confidence & self-esteem-the best predator-repellants of all! How to teach your kid to fight off predators without knowing any formal martial arts or self-defense moves. Using monthly family meetings to teach body safety rules and keep the lines of communication open with your child. Not teaching your child how to protect himself makes him less safe and puts him at risk! Parent up and teach him what he needs to know to avoid sketchy people and handle dangerous encounters with predators. Be the parent your child deserves! TimeRiders Poisoned Candy and Sugar Daddies ~ A parents Guide To Child Safety In Today's Dangerous Culture Maddy should have died in a plane crash. Liam should have died at sea when the Titanic sank. Sal should have died in a tragic fire. But a mysterious man whisked them away to safety. And they weren't just rescued from their terrible fates. . . they were recruited for the agency of TimeRiders created to protect the world from those seeking to alter the prosecutor of crimes on children, this is Crime & Prevention 101.-NANCY GRACE, Former prosecutor, host of HLN Prime Time's Nancy Grace and author of the New York Times best seller Objection! - How High-Priced Defense Attorneys, Celebrity Defendants, and a 24/7 Media Have Hijacked Our Criminal Justice System There is no crime-not even murder-that worries and sickens parents more than child sexual abuse. Parents wonder how to protect their children when almost every day the news reports another incident of someone in authority arrested on suspicion of child abuse-from clergy and teachers to family members themselves. Even law enforcement has had trouble defining the problem and only recently has the Department of Justice begun recording statistics of sexual assault against children. Amid the confusion generated by sensational news reports and uncertainty regarding the nature and extent of child sexual abuse, what can parents do? In this straightforward, clearly written guidebook, veteran sex-crimes prosecutor and Los Angeles deputy district attorney Robin Sax answers one hundred questions that she has most often encountered in her fifteen years of experience. From the definition of abuse to the profiles of a predator to how to report an incident and to whom, Sax provides practical, reassuring, and appropriate information. For ease of use, the book is organized into six major sections: Recognizing predators: molesters, pedophiles, and opportunists? Talking to kids about risks and identifying potential problems? Recognizing abuse? Reporting sexual abuse? Going to court? Healing and moving on Sax makes it clear that protecting children begins with every parent in the home. Parents must view protecting children from the potential of sexual assault as a priority. Teaching children preventive measures should be viewed as important as teaching kids how to dial 9-1-1. Sax concludes by emphasizing that the best defense against sexual offenders is information. Her book provides realistic answers to empower parents and educators, even in the face of one of life's scariest threats. MORE PRAISE FOR ROBIN SAX'S NEW BOOK: Sax has written an exhaustive treatise on predators, which at the same time is an excellent resource for parents, caregivers, teachers, lawyers and anyone who cares about protecting children from sexual abuse. If you want to know what to expect from the "system" or just want to know how to protect you and your loved ones, you must read this book. Sax provides her information objectively and realistically and is a must read for everyone who wants to protect children.-

 Predators aren't only found in the jungles or on the savannah; they are just down the street, at the mall, and, sometimes, in our very own homes. But unlike the lions and tigers of the wild, domestic human hunters can go unrecognized until it is too late. In this must-read book, Robin Sax shares her expertise from years as a sex crimes prosecutor, helping parents understand how pedophiles operate and what they can do to make sure their children don't fall victim to them. -PAT BROWN, Criminal Profiler Robin Sax (Los Angeles, CA) is a former deputy district attorney for Online Predators Greenleaf Book Group Challenging widespread assumptions that persons who are preferentially attracted to minors—often referred to as "pedophiles"—are necessarily also predators and sex offenders, this book takes readers into the lives of non-offending minor-attracted persons (MAPs). There is little research into non-offending MAPs, a group whose experiences offer valuable insights into the prevention of child abuse. Navigating guilt, shame, and fear, this universally maligned group demonstrates remarkable resilience and commitment to living without offending and to supporting and educating others. Using data from interview-based research, A Long, Dark Shadow offers a crucial account of the lived experiences of this hidden population.

Children at Risk

Tyndale House Publishers

There was a day when society shielded its children from the often cruel world. At least in the so-called developed countries, the exposure of children to the worst perversions society can conjure up, has never been greater. Children have reached the exalted level of being treated, seduced and targeted to as a 'market'.

Psychologists estimate that all women will be put in harm's way, in one form or another, by a predator during their lifetime. At their most extreme, the predator is a sociopath who lures woman into psychologically-damaging relationships that are almost impossible to walk away from safely. More common is the narcissist or the man with anti-social personality disorder: initially charming, sensitive, intense and charismatic... but who soon torments his lover and devastates her life through a calculated method of manipulation, domination and control. Then there are the stalkers... After her own terrifying experience, Alison Summers has created 'The Girl's Guide to Predators'. It is everything you need to know about the predatory man: why they do what they do, why you'll like them, warning signs and red flags and how to get out.

Integrative Parenting: Strategies for Raising Children Affected by Attachment Trauma Springer
This information-rich volume expands current knowledge about sexually violent predators and critiques SVP laws with the goal of fostering improvements in clinical practice and public policy. It offers a finely detailed evidence base on this problematic class of offenders, including the complex interactions of biophysiological and environmental factors that contribute to criminal sexual behavior.

Chapters discuss a wide range of assessment issues and instruments central to SVP evaluation, and the possibilities for developing interventions that address individual motivations and behaviors to reduce the risk of reoffending. And throughout, careful attention is paid to ongoing legal, ethical, and logical concerns regarding sexually violent offenders, their treatment and confinement, and their post-confinement placement. Among the topics covered: · Civil commitment of sex offenders. · The physiological basis of problematic sexual interests and behaviors. · Sexually violent predator evaluations: problems and proposals. · Cultural considerations in the assessment of sexually violent predators. ·

Management of sex offenders in community settings. · Effective use of an expert in sexually violent predator commitment hearings. Offering numerous issues for discussion and debate with considerable implications for clinical practice, policy, and the judicial system, Sexually Violent Predators will interest and enlighten forensic psychologists and

A timeless exploration of high-stakes romance, self-discovery, and the lengths we go to love and be loved. Sixteen-year-old Zarin Wadia is many things: a bright and vivacious student, an orphan, a risk taker. She's also the kind of girl that parents warn their kids to stay away from: a troublemaker whose many romances are the subject of endless gossip at school. You don't want to get involved with a girl like that, they say. So how is it that eighteen-year-old Porus Dumasia has only ever had eyes for her? And how did Zarin and Porus end up dead in a car together, crashed on the side of a highway in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia? When the religious police arrive on the scene, everything everyone thought they knew about Zarin is questioned. And as her story is pieced together, told through multiple perspectives, it becomes clear that she was far more than just a girl like that. This beautifully written debut novel from Tanaz Bhathena reveals a rich and wonderful new world to readers; tackles complicated issues of race, identity, class, and religion; and paints a portrait of teenage ambition, angst, and alienation that feels both inventive and universal.
