 • NATIONAL BOOK AWARD FINALIST • A PEN/FAULKNER AWARD FINALIST • Set in the eerie days of civilization's collapse—the spellbinding story of a Hollywood star, his would-be savior, and a nomadic group of actors roaming the scattered outposts of the Great Lakes region, risking everything for art and humanity. • Now an original series on HBO Max. • Over one million copies sold! Kirsten Raymonde will never forget the night Arthur Leander, the famous Hollywood actor, had a heart attack on stage during a production of King Lear. That was the night when a devastating flu pandemic arrived in the city, and within weeks, civilization as we know it came to an end. Twenty years later, Kirsten moves between the settlements of the altered world with a small troupe of actors and musicians. They call themselves The Traveling Symphony, and they have dedicated themselves to keeping the remnants of art and humanity alive. But when they arrive in St. Deborah by the Water, they encounter a violent prophet who will threaten the tiny band's existence. And as the story takes off, moving back and forth

.And thrust into the middle of it all, caught in the crosshairs of an old enemy and a professional assassin, are the kids from Wolf's Head Bay. Inspired by actual events, a camping trip into Michigan's Upper Peninsula goes terrifyingly awry after Lynn meets and befriends Dylan, a charismatic teenage boy who draws her, Jeremy, his brothers and their friends, into a frightening ordeal, ultimately leading them to an abandoned, underground missile silo. While the frightened group of kids are held captive by the Colonel, a dangerous man, intent on controlling the world's human trafficking network, Jeremy makes a chilling discovery involving corrupt Washington powerbrokers. The desperate group of kids make a harrowing escape by helicopter, but not before collecting evidence exposing the criminal activity. With Jeremy at the controls, they are pursued by the black Scorpion and quickly forced down into a remote section of the northern wilderness. Now on the ground, unable to communicate with the outside world, and on the run for their lives, pursued by government operatives, including Spear, the Colonel's deadly, trained assassin, can Jeremy, Leslie, Dane and the rest of the kids make it to the safety of their families, and trust the authorities with the evidence they've uncovered?"I don't believe this " Jeremy uttered incredulously, nearly laughing at the absurdity. "Of all the major events to rock this country in the last half century, maybe with the exception of the Kennedy assassination, this one is the biggest, and the least known, mostly because of the orchestrated cover-up. And we are squarely...in the middle of it "

When it was released in 1955, the film Rebel Without a Cause had a revolutionary impact on moviemaking and youth culture, virtually giving birth to our concept of the American teenager. For the first time, Live Fast, Die Young tells the complete story of the explosive making of Rebel, a film that has rocked every generation since its release. Set against a backdrop of the Atomic Age and an old Hollywood studio system on the verge of collapse, it vividly evokes the cataclysmic, immensely influential meeting of four of Hollywood's most passionate artists. When James Dean, Natalie Wood, Sal Mineo, and director Nicholas Ray converged, each was at a crucial point in his or her career. The young actors were grappling with fame, their burgeoning sexuality, and increasingly reckless behavior. As Ray engaged his cast in physical melees and psychosexual seductions of startling intensity, the on- and off-set relationships between his ambitious young actors ignited, sending a shock wave through the film. Through interviews with the surviving members of the cast and crew and firsthand access to both personal and studio archives, Lawrence Frascella and Al Weisel reveal Rebel's true drama -- the director's affair with sixteen-year-old Wood, his tempestuous "spiritual marriage" with Dean, and his role in awakening the latent homosexuality of Mineo, who would become the first gay teenager to appear on film. Complete with thirty photographs, including ten never-before-seen photos by famed Dean photographer Dennis Stock, Live Fast, Die Young tells the absorbing inside story of an unforgettable and absolutely essential American film -- a story that is, in many ways, as provocative as the film itself.
