From New York Times bestselling author Mia Sheridan comes an emotional, slow burn romance about a woman desperate to hide and the man who sees through her walls, perfect for fans of Colleen Hoover and Lucy Score. I wanted to lose myself in the small town of Pelion, Maine. To forget everything I had left behind. The sound of rain. The blood. The coldness of a gun against my skin. For six months, each breath has been a reminder that I survived—and my dad didn't. I'm almost safe again. But the moment I meet Archer Hale, my entire world tilts on its axis . . . and never rights itself again. Until I trespass into his strange, silent, and isolated world, Archer communicates with no one. Yet in his whiskey-colored eyes, something intangible happens between us. There's so much more to him than just his beauty, his presence, or the ways his hands communicate with me. On me. But this town is mired in secrets and betrayals, and Archer is the explosive center of it all. So much passion. And so much hurt. But it's only in Archer's silence that we might just find what we need to heal . . . and live. Includes an exclusive extended epilogue from Archer's POV! A Goodread's "Top Romance Novel of All Time" A New York Times, USA Today, and Wall Street Journal bestseller

Set to the folktune, Hinky Dinky Parlez-Vous, the Read-and-Sing book, Silent E, helps children learn to recognize and spell words with c-v-c-e (consonant-vowel-consonant-silent e) patterns. By following the Lit Kids sign painting adventures, readers can begin to predict the complete word under the covered portion of the sign by applying the silent e rule.

All five stories are written with other phonetic "silent e" words, which include the Dolch phonetic sight words*. When teaching children to read, color coding the alphabet can help them learn the different kinds of letters in the English language. Color coding also helps highlight common letter combinations, such as consonant blends, and shows how these combinations create a variety of consonant and vowel sounds. As a result, children learn to recognize letter and sound patterns, helping the reading process become more intuitive. This approach is often used in Montessori teachings. For example: Red: Consonants (b, c, d, f, g, h, j, k, l, m, n, p, q, r, s, t, v, w, x, y, z) and Consonant Blends (bl, br, cl, cr, dr, fr, tr, fl, gl, gr, ld, nd, nk, pl, pr, sk, sl, sm, sn, sp, st) Blue: Short Vowels (a, e, i, o, u) Green: H-Digraphs (sh, th, ch), Long Vowels (a, e, i, o, u), Silent e (e) and Spelling Patterns (ck, ff, ll, ss, ay, ee, ow, oo, ou, er, or, ar, ing) Once the red consonants and blue short vowels are mastered, the remaining spelling variations are noted in green to distinguish that these sounds are different than the recognizable consonants or short vowels. The series is taught in a specific order to develop familiarity: Short a Short i Short a and i Short o Short a, i, o Short u Short a, i, o, u Short e Short a, i, o, u, e Consonant Blends H-Digraphs Silent e / Long Vowels Consonant Phonogram Spelling Patterns ck, ff, ll, ss Vowel Phonogram Spelling Patterns ay, ee, ow, y, oo, ou, er, or, ar. BONUS: Short Vowels and Silent e Comparisons. This is the second book in the series, Book 2: Short i, written by a mom, edited by a Montessori Director.
