This book will give you an insight to the college recruiting from a coaches and players perspective. It will answer questions that parents or student-athletes may not think to ask or even know to ask. A college coach can be seen as a car salesman. It is their job to sell you their staff, institution, and philosophies above their competitors. Toyota has a long history of quality, but with recent catastrophe with recalls, they will have to come with a boost against their competitors. A coach will look to show you the high points to their institution not the weaknesses. The weaknesses they will admit are the needs your child can fill on their squad. As a student and parent it is your responsibility to investigate prior to your commitment by signing a National Letter or walking on to an institution. The wrong choice can be hair pulling situation. It is every young athlete's dream to play at the collegiate level. Some hope to play in the NAAs and hoist the championship trophy at some point in their career. Others look to even go on to play professional overseas or here in the states. In making that dream become a reality there is more work required than between the lines and watching game film. The recruiting game is an entirely different beast in itself. After experiencing being recruited as a player twice and from the coaching side, recruiting can be both exhilarating and devastating just as the game itself. There are a lot of steps that are between points A & B. This book will look to give you as a parent and student a better feel as to how this can be accomplished.

Spend only a few dollars to help you save thousands of dollars in scholarships, time, and energy, by learning how to get the best schools and offers The process that involves the international student-athlete and family finding the best American college, including all its related tasks and paperwork, can be very complicated and even frustrating, especially if you do not have any guidance. The main objective of this e-book is to give you the direction you will need during this process so you can choose the best school and handle the process as easy, and safely as possible. I want to help you by sharing the tactics that worked for hundreds of tennis players, with a step-by-step process on how to:

- * Understand the entrance terms, when to get started, and how to make a calendar
- * Figure out what you need to have before you start talking to coaches
- * Clarify the collegiate sports leagues and eligibility requirements
- * Prepare for exams
- * Understand basketball requirements (which schools fit your level)
- * Produce a great basketball video
- * Research schools by using advanced filters
- * Contact coaches
- * Define your budget to the coaches and the reason why it is important
- * Get scholarships
- * Understand the offers and costs
- * Negotiate
- * Choose the best school for you
- * Avoid pitfalls
- * Understand the junior colleges
- * Deal with the unknown
- * Do all the paperwork
- * Learn about housing and meal plan
- * Understand immunization forms and health insurance
- * Understand the I-20 process and obtain a student visa
- * Conduct the process with ease

- * Become a successful student-athlete and get the most out of the experience

Therefore, you are in the right place if you want to do your own college placement with method and efficiency, having autonomy in all parts of the process. I will take you by the hand and show you all the steps you need to take, what to do and what not to do. You will have access to all my knowledge acquired by working with college placement for more than 16 years. I want to share with you everything that I have learned after I sent more than 1000 student-athletes to the USA with different academic, athletic, and financial profiles. Some of you may be acquainted with the American culture, while others have never been to the USA. Parents can also get very anxious because they are sending their son or daughter overseas, and also because they do not know how to better handle the process. Moreover, the vast majority of the players is not a TOP junior player. Most likely you will have to make most or all first approaches, and this is also why this guide has been written for you: to teach you how to research schools, talk to coaches, negotiate scholarships, and so on. And even if you are a TOP notch junior player who gets seen in tournaments and contacted by coaches who research your results, this guide is written for you as well, so you do not depend solely on the ones that contacted you, and that way you have a variety of great possibilities to choose from, besides learning about paperwork, scholarship negotiation tactics, and all the tricks during the process, that we make available to you here. Also, by writing this e-book, I hope that college coaches and even the admissions counselors can also benefit from your better understanding of the process. When you have the right expectations, learn how to contact coaches, and ask the right questions, the better the process can become for everyone. My name is Mauricio Cabrini, I am from Brazil. I played college tennis at University of North Carolina at Wilmington, an NCAA division 1 program, and graduated with a double major in Communication Studies and Spanish in 2005. I founded MC Graduation in 2008, a college placement company, that has worked with more than 1000 student-athletes from many countries. I hope you enjoy this e-book, and that it can lead you to a very successful journey.

Paul Petricca draws on his experience as a coach, player, blogger, and student of baseball and softball to share what he's learned about hitting in this essential guide for players seeking dramatic results at the plate. The author presents easy to understand hitting mechanics highlighting how the engineering concept of torque can be applied to hitting and is often the difference between a weak groundball or a long home run. Topics covered include understanding where hitting power really comes from and the importance of increasing bat speed through the fundamentals of a repeatable and powerful rotational swing. Hitters of all ages who adopt his eight hitting keys will enjoy a dramatic increase in bat speed and power almost immediately. Hitting with Torque is more than a set of hitting mechanics---its a mindset. Readers will be challenged to look past the worn-out hitting theories and myths that have been holding back hitters from reaching their full potential. With an open mind and practice, all hitters can unlock the power and consistency that is Hitting with Torque.

Many athletes (and their parents) find the college recruiting process to be confusing, complex and difficult. They're not sure where to start or how to begin. If you're an athlete and want to play soccer at the college level, then you can't wait for coaches to come knocking at your door, or expect to be 'discovered.'

According to the NCAA, only around 2% of athletes are actively recruited. College coaches want to hear from good players who are genuinely interested in their program. The most successful athletes are the ones who are pro-active and start marketing themselves early in high school to college coaches. Written by a soccer parent whose two daughters were successfully recruited to play D1 college soccer, this step-by-step guide provides a comprehensive game plan for players to get a college coach's attention. It also provides valuable information on all D1, D2, D3, NAIA, and NJCAA schools. With over 220 topics and questions covered in-depth; and over 1400 schools listed, this guide explains what a athlete needs to do to be successfully recruited, starting Freshman year in High School right through to Senior year. Some of the topics covered include: 1) What is the recruiting timeline for athletes? 2) What do College Coaches look for in a Recruit? 3) How to get started contacting College Coaches. 4) What to look for when visiting a college or university? 5) How to determine if a College Coach is really interested in you? 6) What turns College Coaches off a potential Recruit? 7) What to expect from your first contact with a College Coach? 8) How to write a great soccer resume to send to a coach. 9) What questions should

I ask a College Coach? 10) What is the most important thing to consider when picking a school? 11) What are NCAA Recruiting Guidelines and why do I need to register with the NCAA? 12) When are Verbal Commitments usually made? 13) What to expect with Athletic Scholarships and how are they decided? 14) The importance of your high school transcripts and ACTs/SATs . 15) Do athletes receive support in admissions? 16) Should my parents play a role in my recruiting? 17) What is a National Letter of Intent and when do I sign one? 18) What are the differences in playing Division I, Division II, Division III, NAIA or NJCAA soccer? 19) Playing High School vs. Club Soccer. 20) How to best benefit from College Recruiting Showcase Tournaments. 21) What to expect as a College soccer player? plus much more.....

This book shows athletes how to get the best out of the recruiting process: conduct it like a job search, wherein the student-athlete is marketed to college coaches. You must target the right schools and then market yourself in the right way. Once a coach becomes interested many other issues must be settled (NCAA Clearinghouse, recruiting rules, scholarship issues, etc.). This book helps high school athletes understand the recruiting rules and increase their chances of getting into the college of their dreams.
