Chelsea Fagan has tapped a range of experts to help you make the best choices for you, but she also knows that being smarter with money isn't just about what you put in the bank. It's about everything—from the clothes you put in your closet, to your financial relationship habits, to the food you put in your kitchen (instead of ordering in again). So The Financial Diet gives you the tools to negotiate a raise and the perfect cocktail recipe to celebrate your new salary. The Financial Diet will teach you: • how to get good with money in a year. • the ingredients everyone needs to have a budget-friendly kitchen. • how to talk about awkward money stuff with your friends. • the best way to make (and stick to!) a budget. • how to take care of your house like a grown-up. • what the hell it means to invest (and how you can do it).

While you personally do not need to be an expert, having some basic knowledge on personal finance, and doing some research, will drastically help when making financial decisions. This book will start you in the right direction. Personal Finance Under One Hour does not encompass everything there is to learn about personal finance, but instead is designed to give you a basic overview in only an hour. Let's be honest, most people do not have the time to read a 300 page book on any topic, but many people can spare an hour. Many sources, such as books, websites, and personal mentors, have inspired the contents of this book. The goal is to sum up the best information these sources offer so you can get the most important points in the least amount of time. By reading Personal Finance Under One Hour you will gain the necessary knowledge to expand your financial IQ and make better financial decisions. Under One Hour books are broken down into six 10 minute sections making it easier to read and learn on the go. Each section contains two or three main topics with sub-topics to explore.
