Did you just bring home a golden retriever puppy? Does your excitement know no bounds? Are you excited to start training them and teach them basic commands? Well, you have come to the right place! Anyone who owns a golden retriever will tell you they are the best breeds in the world. Not only are they intelligent, but also take command quite easily. They are also extremely family-oriented and will go to great lengths just to keep their family happy. You need to offer them the same open-hearted love and affection that they shower you with, but these simple-minded creatures can be quite a handful if not trained well. So, it is your responsibility to ensure that your puppy is trained from a young age so that they can grow into a responsible and well-trained adult. In this book, we will look at how you can go about training your puppy and teaching them the basics, including potty training and walking on a leash. You will know when it is the right time to get them started with the training so that it sticks for life. By the time you are done reading this book, you will be raring to put the advice to practice and to start training your precious pooch! Once your retriever is trained with the basics, you will see that they are nothing but a pleasure to have around. Let us begin!

The Labrador Retriever Training Handbook Independently Published

The Golden Retriever is one of the most popular dog breeds in the United States. The breed's friendly, tolerant attitude makes them great family pets, and their intelligence makes them highly capable working dogs. Golden Retrievers excel at retrieving game for hunters, tracking, sniffing out contraband for law enforcement, and as therapy and service dogs. They're also natural athletes and do well in dog sports such as agility and competitive obedience. These dogs are fairly easy to train and get along in just about any home or family. They're great with kids and very protective of their humans. If you want a loyal, loving, and smart companion, consider adopting one of these pups into your pack. Dog Time recommends this dog bed to give a good night's sleep to your medium-sized Golden. You should also pick up this dog de-shedder for your high shedding pup! Dogs are born with certain innate characteristics that are evident from birth. Puppies are born blind and deaf, totally dependent on the dam for warmth and nourishment. The dam will instinctively suckle and protect her young, often keeping other dogs and all but the most trusted people away from the whelping box. Between 10 and 14 days after birth, the eyes and ear canals open, and the puppies begin to move actively around their nest. As they grow, they become more curious and start to investigate their surroundings independently. The dam will begin to leave them alone briefly. During this phase they relate most intensely to their littermates and dam and may become unhappy at being removed from their familiar surroundings. This stage of development lasts about 20 days and is the first of four critical periods.

Golden Retriever: How to Train Your Golden Retriever in 30 Days Or Less Independently Published One of the first things you must achieve is for your Golden Retriever puppy to learn to control his toilet bowls, that is, to relieve himself in the place that you assign him to do so. Use newspaper or absorbent paper that you can change when it gets dirty but stay in place until it gets used to it. Educating the Golden Retriever to go to the bathroom Socialization There is nothing so important especially when the Golden Retriever puppy is not yet 3 months old, as socialization. This implies that you must try to get your dog to have contact with as many people and animals as possible, always in a positive environment and without aggressiveness. Knowledge In the same way that it is important for your Golden Retriever puppy to socialize, he must also know everything that he will have to deal with as an adult (water, cars, sounds, nail or haircuts, baths and a long etc.). And it is essential to take advantage of doing it before the age of 3 months, which is when what experts call the "socialization period" culminates. Extra: The bites You should know that your Golden Retriever puppy needs to bite, it is something natural for him and you cannot deny, repress, or punish him for it. Proceed in a positive and persuasive way and divert attention away from the bites, to things that he cannot destroy, like his toys or a rope, rather than to your shoes or the bottom of the sofa. Train a teenage Golden Retriever A Golden Retriever dog that has been trained since childhood may seem like he is already on track to face greater challenges, but it turns out that one day (it can be any between 6 and 11 months) he stops obeying. And this is so simple, as you are growing and developing your hormonal system, which is why you have reached adolescence. Adolescence brings physiological changes, and you may notice that it interacts with other dogs in different ways. To compensate for these attitudes, which are normal and predictable, continue with the positive socialization process. Want more tips? Get this book now.

How to make your Golden Retriever happy and build a strong bond between you and your furry friend... Did you know: Golden Retrievers were originally bred as gun dogs to retrieve shot waterfowl during hunting and shooting parties. With 5 tennis balls, the world record for "Most Tennis Balls Held in the Mouth by a Dog" is held by a Golden Retriever named Augie. Both US Presidents Gerald Ford and Ronald Reagan had Golden Retrievers. No wonder the former presidents decided to bond with the third most popular dog breed in the USA. Golden Retrievers will not only love you to the max, but they are also extremely smart. Yet, having a Golden Retriever is like having a highly gifted child. In order to maintain their health and happiness, they need to be challenged the right way. Even if you are not a first-time dog parent, there is a lot to discover once you decide to get a Golden Retriever. Your furry friend will surprise you with his extraordinary personality. This is why the average puppy parent book or everything you need to know about dogs book is not enough to accommodate your Golden Retriever's needs. Just think about their affinity for water or their special physical constitution. You should know how to deal with physical and behavioral issues in a Golden Retriever -not just dogs in general. In "What the Golden Retriever Experts Know....That You Don't", you'll discover: Everything from A-Z you need to know about your Golden Retriever How to stop chewing, biting, jumping and other behavioral issues The most important commands to be a successful dog parent How to be a good puppy parent and raise a happy, well-behaved dog Practical Strategies to deal with misbehavior and aggression How to control your retriever's weight and get rid of the unnecessary spare tire One of the most life threatening diseases in Golden Retrievers and how to prevent it What to do if your potty training doesn't work because your dog suffers from incontinence The most common traps Golden Retriever parents fall into and how to avoid them How to read and notice telling signs and always know what your Golden Retriever needs And much more. On average, a Golden Retriever will accompany your life for 10-12 years. During this time, you will develop a deep and loving relationship. Yet just like a romantic relationship between two humans, there are some challenges you need to master to maintain a healthy relationship between you and your Golden Retriever. Even if you and your four-legged friend have been together for a while, there might be space to grow and improve the communication between the two of you. If you want to enjoy being a Golden

Retriever parent to the fullest, then scroll up and click the "Add to Cart" button right now.
