 Adapted from the successful US edition, Fundamentals of Intermediate Accounting by Kieso, Weygandt & Warfield, this text provides students with a thorough examination and explanation of concepts in financial accounting such as the conceptual framework, presentation of financial statements (and the major reporting issues related to assets), liabilities, equity, revenues and expenses. In response to the internationalisation of accounting standards, the diversity of students' backgrounds and the professional opportunities a study of commerce presents, this text offers a unique comparative analysis of the financial reporting requirements under the jurisdictions of IASB, FASB and AASB. The text provides students with an understanding of financial accounting reporting requirements globally that equips them with an international perspective on financial reporting procedures and issues. Accounting is the language of business and a qualification in accounting is seen as an international 'professional passport' for graduates. This text is ideal for commerce programs whose objective is to deliver an international context to the study of accounting. As the majority of financial accounting reporting principles covered in the text are discussed within the conceptual frameworks of Australia, the United States and International Accounting Standards, students will learn how to account for and appreciate accounting events on a global level. The text is ideal for the second course in financial accounting under the undergraduate program, Master of Professional Accounting, or subjects on international financial reporting.

My journey into this fascinating field of biotechnology started about 26 years ago at a small biotechnology company in South San Francisco called Genentech. I was very fortunate to work for the company that begat the biotech industry during its formative years. This experience established a solid foundation from which I could grow in both the science and business of biotechnology. After my fourth year of working on Oyster Point Boulevard, a close friend and colleague left Genentech to join a start-up biotechnology company. Later, he approached me to leave and join him in of all places - Oklahoma. He persisted for at least a year before I seriously considered his proposal. After listening to their plans, the opportunity suddenly became more and more intriguing. Finally, I took the plunge and joined this entrepreneurial team in cofounding and growing a start-up biotechnology company. Making that fateful decision to leave the security of a larger company was extremely difficult, but it turned out to be the beginning of an entrepreneurial career that forever changed how I viewed the biotechnology industry. Since that time, I have been fortunate to have cofounded two other biotechnology companies and even participated in taking one of them public. During my career in these start-ups, I held a variety of positions, from directing the science, operations, regulatory, and marketing components, to subsequently becoming CEO.
