This unforgettable novel puts human faces on the Syrian war with the immigrant story of a beekeeper, his wife, and the triumph of spirit when the world becomes unrecognizable. "A beautifully crafted novel of international significance that has the capacity to have us open our eyes and see."—Heather Morris, author of The Tattooist of Auschwitz WINNER OF THE ASPEN WORDS LITERARY PRIZE • FINALIST FOR THE DAYTON LITERARY PEACE PRIZE • NAMED ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY REAL SIMPLE Nuri is a beekeeper and Afra, his wife, is an artist. Mornings, Nuri rises early to hear the call to prayer before driving to his hives in the countryside. On weekends, Afra sells her colorful landscape paintings at the open-air market. They live a simple life, rich in family and friends, in the hills of the beautiful Syrian city of Aleppo—until the unthinkable happens. When all they love is destroyed by war, Nuri knows they have no choice except to leave their home. But escaping Syria will be no easy task: Afra has lost her sight, leaving Nuri to navigate her grief as well as a perilous journey through Turkey and Greece toward an uncertain future in Britain. Nuri is sustained only by the knowledge that waiting for them is his cousin Mustafa, who has started an apiary in Yorkshire and is teaching fellow refugees beekeeping. As Nuri and Afra travel through a broken world, they must confront not only the pain of their own unspeakable loss but dangers that would overwhelm even the bravest souls. Above all, they must make the difficult journey back to each other, a path once so familiar yet rendered foreign by the heartache of displacement. Moving, intimate, and beautifully written, The Beekeeper of Aleppo is a book for our times: a novel that at once reminds us that the most peaceful and ordinary lives can be utterly upended in unimaginable ways and brings a journey in faraway lands close to home, never to be forgotten. Praise for The Beekeeper of Aleppo "This book dips below the deafening headlines, and tells a true story with subtlety and power."—Esther Freud, author of Mr. Mac and Me "This compelling tale had me gripped with its compassion, its sensual style, and its onward and lively urge for resolution."—Daljit Nagra, author of British Museum "This novel speaks to so much that is happening in the world today. It's intelligent, thoughtful, and relevant, but very importantly it is accessible. I'm recommending this book to everyone I care about."—Benjamin Zephaniah, author of Refugee Boy

Should I go to graduate school? How do I choose where to apply? Are my grades and accomplishments good enough to get in? Who should I ask to write recommendation letters for me, and how should I approach these people? How do I write my "personal statement?" When will I hear my fate, and how should I make my final decision? These are just a few of the many questions to which this well-researched, thorough, and extremely user-friendly book offers answers. Students who are contemplating graduate training in psychology, counseling, and related fields are often apprehensive and confused about applying to graduate school, but this book takes the guesswork and anxiety out of the process. The tone and features (such as the Q&A format, timeline for application-related tasks and activities, and special advice for special populations) that made the first edition so successful, eliciting hundreds of thank-you notes and e-mail messages to the author, are just as evident in this new edition. The book has been thoroughly updated to include coverage of new topics such as use of the internet and e-mail, as well as changing trends in the professions. The most obvious difference is that the book is now significantly shorter as a result of meticulous rewriting, making it even easier to use. There have been attempts since the publication of the first edition to copy the format of this book, but none of the others have successfully duplicated the depth of research-based advice and the supportive style that make this book the guide of choice for thousands of graduate-school bound students and their advisors.

If you wanted advice on how to create a website, would you ask someone who has not used a computer in fifteen years? Of course not! So why would you read a 400 page book full of useless information on winning scholarships written by people who haven't filled out a scholarship application in twenty years? The good news is: you don't have to. MillionDollarScholar: Winning The Scholarship Race is a fresh and modern guide filled with straightforward information that helped the author win over a million dollars in scholarships and will help put you on the trajectory towards becoming a MillionDollarScholar.

This book is written by five students of the Class of 2020, all attending undergraduate universities with a full-ride scholarship. Coming from various backgrounds, including first-generation low-income, people of color, and immigrant upbringings, these writers hope to create a new resource to ease the college application process in its whole. As a one-stop-trip, the book covers each step of the college application process including essay writing, scholarship finding, filling out applications, preparation for interviews, and much more. Each writer also shares their testimonies, mistakes, supplemental essays, and overall journey in their process. There is no one way to apply to college and the writers' various paths hope to not only show, but embrace the diversity when applying. Verified by college counselor. / About the Authors: Steven Li was born in Sioux Falls, South Dakota but raised in Chicago, Illinois with a family of immigrants from China. His parents' sacrifice to provide him a life in the United States has fueled his passion for entrepreneurship, an opportunity to express his ideas and projects into the real world. In high school, he was the Intern President of the Economic Awareness Council of On the Money Magazine and environmental researcher winning Illinois awards. His involvement within the community has helped him combine his passions of entrepreneurship and youth impact. He is enrolled at Stanford University studying Management Science & Engineering. / Sebastian Duque was born in Pereira, Colombia, and immigrated to the United States when he was 6 years old. Since then, he has lived in Kendall, a suburb of Miami, Florida. Inspired by his parent's sacrifices, Sebastian worked to succeed throughout high school and was president of the Science National Honor Society chapter as well as the secretary of the International Thespian Honor Society. He is also a regional Science Bowl champion and he has been recognized by the National Hispanic Recognition program. In the future, he hopes to combine his love of science with his love for politics and public relations to study environmental policy. As of now, Sebastian is enrolled at Yale University as an Environmental Studies major. / Santiago Alvillar was born and raised in El Monte, California: a Hispanic community on the outskirts of East Los Angeles. He is the youngest of three sons and comes from an Indigenous, Southern Mexican, immigrant household. He has gained multiple national titles including Gates Scholar, Coca-Cola Scholar, Edison STEM Scholar, National Horatio Alger Association Scholar, and Elks Top Male Winner; Santiago has been recognized regionally and interviewed by LA news stations. Currently, he's enrolled at Stanford University hoping to graduate with a Bachelor's and Master's degree in Engineering Physics. / Narvella is a first-generation American, born to a family of Ghanaian immigrants. Narvella was born in Chicago, Illinois but was raised in Montgomery, Illinois. Narvella is enrolled at the University of Chicago, studying Global Health/Global Studies on the pre-medical track. In high school, she served as the President of National Honors Society, Student Council, and Medical Club. As Narvella continues to pursue her goals, she hopes to inspire other Black girls, and people from all backgrounds, to continue to give back to their communities, appreciate education, and to shoot for their goals no matter how far away they seem. / Dayanna Salas was born in Guayaquil, Ecuador but immigrated to the United States at the age of 6 to live in Chicago, Illinois. Her immigration story have fueled her passion to be involved in Ecuadorians politics and she hopes to make positive contributions to her country in the future. Her mixed-race background has sparked an interest in the representation and intersectionality of different identities. She is currently enrolled in the University of Pennsylvania planning to study international relations and economics.
